The team are pleased to announce www.u-fit.co.uk as the latest company to be involved with the RedVictor3 project.

John Armstrong, managing director at U-fit says "we've always tried to sponsor individuals who are prepared to go up against it (local Boxer Baz Carey's amazing 12 rounds with Amir Khan). So when we saw on the internet that Andy was building a new car to wrestle the world's fastest street car title back to England we just knew we wanted to be involved.

We could see straight away the kind of guy Andy is, and call us patriotic but when someone actually does what we all dream and can only talk about, we have to support them! It must take an amazing amount of self belief and commitment to go build another world beating car and we feel pretty privileged to be able share in that vision, and of course to see our smiley pink logo on the Worlds fastest street legal car!". All the best from everyone at www.u-fit.co.uk.

Andy and the team are honoured that U-fit.co.uk are supporting the team in it's quest. We look forward to partnering them and giving them plenty of media exposure for the long term..
