

Autosport show 2012

Written by Frosty

Thursday, 12 January 2012 21:34 -

Unfortunately the car wasn't ready for Autosport international at the NEC for this year, but that didn't stop me visiting to see our current sponsors/partners and to meet potential new ones. Look for some very good news after the weekend about new and existing ones, and to say goodbye to a couple of old ones....

It's not very often that anyone gets to meet a genuine automotive legend, but today at Autosport i did.

Anyone who is 30 or over will be aware of the name David Vizard. Countless tech books about building and tuning engines and years of dyno experience make him someone really who knows his stuff! He's also a very affable fellow too...

So, on that note if you want to learn something about the man and his years of experience, pop along to his seminar that is being held in Swansea on Sept 7th/9th.

Just visit here <http://www.davidvizardseminars.com/> to register your interest.

You won't be disappointed....