It's been a few weeks since we got back from Bahrain on our last leg of the tour.

Unfortunately it was tinged with disappointment as we didn't better our time from the 3rd visit, only netting a 6.08 @ 246mph. The team had to overcome a host of problems, and finally realising that the chassis was badly in need of an upgrade to take the 3600+ hp and 3000ft lbs of torque that the engine is now producing. It's a shame, but that is how racing goes.

The car is now on it's way back to the UK for the neccessary upgrades, and the team hope that we will return to Bahrain for the 2018/2019 BDRC season. As always that relies on us getting the funds to do this, but we are working on that as this is written.

Once again huge thanks to the RV team and the RV 5 second club and sponsors who are supporting us in this quest, and especially the BDRC staff, and Bahrain International Circuit staff who couldn't have been more generous in their hospitality.

Till next time, Frosty.
