Wow, it's been a while since I updated this page. Sorry for the delay but I've just been so busy at the shop and in the garage at home that I've neglected my duties here (and at home says Deb.....) Well the car is back up and running after the trials and tribulations on the dyno. Lots of new parts on the car to try out in the coming season. Of course you're all welcome to come and see me at the track, if I'm busy just come and see me later in the day. I've posted a couple of piccies of the new engine to give you a sneak preview before the weekend. Hope to see you all there.....
