Hello all and welcome to the new site. Thanks to Slinky at www.1320hosting.com for getting the new site up and running. There will be lots of new stuff on here after i get back from the KOE..... As i write this i'm a few hours away from leaving for the ferry and a 1400+km trip to Poland. Hopefully the weather will stay good and we can give it a good go. Of course you never know with drag racing as last weekend we got kicked in the nuts by a £10 part!!

Never mind, we'll keep chipping away at it... I will try and update on our progress while we are away.

Anyway, hope you like the new look. Let me know....
