

31/08/07 a busy week ahead.....

Written by frosty

Friday, 31 August 2007 22:11 - Last Updated Friday, 31 August 2007 22:14

---

..and that's just the racing!!

we're at Silverstone for Trax this weekend to do some 0-60 attempts. Unfortunately Guinness won't recognise the car as standard production, and won't create a modified production category either. This means that whatever the car is that breaks the record we'll have to beat it. I think it's only fair...lol

After that the car goes to WRE for a quick check over before the Euro finals. We will be there on Wednesday for the press day. This is because 5th gear are filming a follow up to the piece they did last September. This time Jonny is going in the car up the track. We have also got to take Peter Carroll from the Express and Star up there to give him an insight on acceleration.

I must admit i've been looking forward to this meeting since the rained out Main Event. Great track, MT radials back on the car and this time some proper launches. There'll also be an international flavour in the Redvictor pits as Aussie Ian from Racetuf is making his usual 10,000 mile trek to the UK, maybe even Steve from Canada too.....

Come over and say hello if you're there.